FOR PRESIDENT,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
ALLAN G. THURMAN, OF OHIO.

FOR CONGRESS,
JAMES B. MCCREARY, OF MADISON.

The New York State Convention of the American party was held at Albany, last week. The platform advocates the abolition of trusts; opposes Catholic parochial public schools; provides that no foreigner should vote before residing in this country twenty-one years, and disfranchises any alien suspected in selling his vote. Considerable contest was made to the advisability of placing a State ticket in the field. It was decided that it would be unwise to do so this year. It was the sense of the convention that a State Committee should be formed for the purpose of naming a State ticket next year.

He hopes the Democrats of 1936 will turn out en masse on next Monday and extend to Gov. McCreary hearty reception. He comes to give an account of his work as our Representative and give a reason for what that is in him as a Democrat and our school. He has established a reputation in Congress that is creditable to himself and the district and the constituency whom he has faithfully served should give words of cheer and encouragement and continue until the great principles of reform is engrained in

Mr. Curtis Gentry, a prominent merchant of this place left on the 3rd inst. for Cincinnati for sundry purposes—attended the exposition, buy goods and we suppose to take to himself a helpmate, as he was accompanied by one of the fair sex. The intended bride is Miss Dottie Bruce, daughter of Mr. James Bruce, of this place.

The dead body of Philip W. Strickland, an advertising agent, was found hanging against a street lamp-post at Philadelphia, Pa. It is supposed he committed suicide by taking poison.

The wedding celebration takes place at St. John's Episcopal church on the evening of October 16, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Pennington, of Hopkinsville, formerly of Versailles, will perform the ceremony. The bridesmaids, six in number, will be: Misses Sallie G. Humphreys and Earl Voorhies, of Versailles; Miss Alexander Gibson, of Lexington; Misses Alexander and Jennie Scott, of Louisville; Miss Johnson, of Virginia. There will be six groomsmen and six bridesmaids. After the ceremony, a reception upon an elegant piazza will be tendered.

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1888.

Go to the concert next Saturday night.

Read Brinkley's new advertisement this week. It will be to your advantage.

Be sure to attend the concert Saturday night and get your friends to go. It is the call of charity.

The Y. M. C. A. and Good Templars Lodge will receive the proceeds of Saturday night's concert.

Judge Geo. K. Deane, Jr. announced to speak to the Republicans at this city Thursday evening, in the Court house.

Col. Caperton has bought the two mare harnesses that took premiums at Richmond and Louisville. He paid $115 for one and $120 for the other.

Chicago has had trouble with its street car lines. The drivers have been on a strike for the past week and several serious troubles amounting to riots have been the result.

"Schools of the future" will be rendered at the concert Saturday night by Miss Sharp, Mrs. Burnham, Miss Campbell, Miss Lane McDowell, Messrs. Adair, Dabney, Swends and Flora.

There being ample funds for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers, the proceeds of the Bredell Concert will be given to the Young Men's Christian Association and the Good Templars Lodge, of this city.

M. Lutes has bought the stock of J. M. P. Chilton, at Red House, and will keep a general supply store. Mr. Lutes is an old merchant having been in business for some time at Paint Lick.

Harvey Greely told this story of himself. Soon after he went to leave the preaching business he went to see a preacher's daughter. The next time he attended meeting he was considerably astonished at hearing the minister announce his marriage. "My daughter is being grievously tempted with a devil," Exchange.

Rev. Dock Francis, of color, of East Kentucky, is conducting a revival at the Green Hill church, near town, which will continue for several days. Rev. Francis is a pious earnest man, and is doing a good work for God and his race. His wife is a devoted Christian. The collection of money for the colored man who never attended church, will be here the first of next week to assist in the meeting.—Three Forks Enterprise.

Messrs. Jos. S. Moore and W. B. Moore are arranging for the publication of a new paper in Danville, and expect to issue the first number this week. They will use the name of one of the first newspapers ever printed in Danville—the "City Branch"—and make it a non-partisan sheet. The experience of these young gentlemen in the newspaper line should enable them to get up a good, readable paper.

The revenue boys are all greatly relieved and are now breathing freer. The Deputy, Capt. Sam Miller, and the Collector, Hon. T. S. Bronston himself, were down this week visiting the distilleries and viewing the ground where Mr. L. A. Starnes' house was destroyed. The collector and his deputy—first and second lieutenants of Hon. J. B. McCrory—think the outlook for their chief is flattering.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

A Reception. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hume arrived home from their trip to St. Louis and Chicago, yesterday afternoon. Last evening they were given an elegant reception at the home of Mrs. Hume on Lancaster Avenue. A large crowd was present, and a most bountiful and sumptuous supper was spread.

The Bird Law.

The attention of bird hunters is called to the following provisions of the Revised Code: "No person shall catch, kill or possess with such intent, or have the same in possession after it has been caught or killed, any quail, partridge or pheasant, between the first day of February and the 30th day of October, in each year, under a penalty of $5 for each offence."

Why Is This?

Why did the poet sing "The Melancholy day has come, the saddest of the year," when he belied the work of the first autumn frosts? It seems as though things have changed since then, and now the days are the happiest of the year. There were few bridal parties registered at the Alexander Hotel in Louisville in one day, last week, and it is said that Richmond can count ten weddings for the autumn months.

A Correction.

The 1145 reported by one of the city papers last week as having been contributed to the National Democratic Campaign Fund by the citizens of this county, was contributed not by the citizens but was collected by Capt. A. E. Dudley from the Revenue officers of Col. Bronston's district. Capt. Dudley is in receipt of a letter from the Chairman of the National Democratic Committee in New York tendering his thanks to the liberal contributors.

A Mammoth Cucumber.

Mrs. Mildred Berry, of Silver Creek, brought to THE CLIMAX office, last week, an unusually large cucumber, which she raised in the produce garden of the Hume farm. Mrs. Berry has had charge of the garden for the past year, and if all the products of the garden were large in proportion as this cucumber, she is to be congratulated. The cucumber measures eleven inches in diameter lengthwise, twenty-five inches around lengthwise and eleven inches around the middle. It can be seen at this office.

Grand Vocal Concert.

Middle Bredell, assisted by her pupils, will give a grand vocal concert on Saturday evening, Oct. 20th, at 8 o'clock. The concert will be given in aid of the Good Templars Lodge and the Young Men's Christian Association. Richmond will have a musical treat of vocal music. The programme is strewn with very fine selections. We would advise all lovers of music to make the opportunity of attending this performance. The selections are as follows: "Poet Song," "The Uchelin Dance," "Grand Irish Air," (Bald) Mrs. Rollins Burnham, Song, "To The Woods," (Warner) Mrs. Lou Francis, Chorus and Tenor Obligato, "Fair Is The Nymph," Gavotte, (from the Opera) Miss Campbell, "The Sweetheart Song," (Mendelssohn) Miss Minnie Smith, "Bald," "Kerry Dance," (Molloy) Miss Sharp, Chorus, "Who Shall Win My Lady Fair," Ballad, "Golden Love," (Milton Wellings), Mrs. Burnham, "Flower Song," (from the Opera Faust) Miss Campbell, "Doubt," "The Sweetheart Song," (Schubert) Song, "Good-bye Sweetheart," (Hanson) Mrs. Francis, Duett, (Mendelssohn) Misses Smith and Campbell, Song, "He Always Mine," (Wellings) Miss Sharp, Chorus, "The Vikings," Tickets 50 cents.

New Hardware House.

Claude Smith formerly of J. W. Prather & Co. has opened a new hardware store on Second street in the house recently vacated by D. P. Ames. Mr. Prather will remain at the old stand on Main street.

The Georgetown Times says:

"The track layers on the Georgetown and Midway road have crossed the Lexington pike and are progressing at the rate of half a mile a day. Good progress is being made on the Kentucky Midland. Work was commenced Friday on the farm of Mrs. Robinson. It is thought that through trains will be run between Cincinnati and Louisville via Georgetown when all of the connections are finished."

Belle Vara.

Belle Vara, the now famous yearling filly who on Tuesday last at the Kentucky Breeder's meeting beat the world's yearling record in a race, distancing a splendid field in 2:35, was bought immediately after the race by the well-known trotting man, H. Simons, of Louisville, this State, for $2,500. Belle Vara was the property of Mr. B. H. Neale, Richmond, Ky., who owns a full sister to her. She is by Vatica, who got a record of 2:54 after he was crippled for life in a race which is one of the most notable, owing to the circumstances, on record. Her dam is the dam of Georgetown, four dam record 2:35. Vatica's first crop of foals, yearlings, are all showing the wonderful gameness of their sire and are all doing credit to his superb breeding. Before Belle Vara's race on Monday, one of the most prominent visiting horsemen from the South remarked that he intended sending a high-bred mare to Vatica, as he looked upon him as one of the best bred stallions in the country, and certainly one of the gamest. There was no bargaining in the sale of the filly. Mr. Simons acquired the price and immediately paid the amount asked. The modesty of the reply was amazing.—Kentucky Stock Farm.

A Ruined Romance.

For a week or more the following paragraph has been going the rounds of the papers: "In 1852, John Medill left his wife and infant son at Glendale, near Harrodsburg, and joined the Confederate army. He had never been heard of, and was supposed to have been killed. His boy, William, now a man of course, was working on a fence a few days since, when a man came along and inquired about the Medill family. The young man told him that his father had been killed in the war, and that his mother had married again and lived in the village and spent the night, and the man disclosed his identity to an old friend that he met, but would give no explanation of his conduct. He left a package for the young man whom he found making the fence, who he said was his son. The package had $20 in it. The elder Medill went to Cincinnati without further identification. It is supposed that he married another woman somewhere."

Now the Mercer Savings and Deposits comes out and spoils the pretty story with this statement: "Joe Mullattian has a disciple or two in this immediate locality, for we see an article both in the Cincinnati Enquirer and Louisville Courier-Journal, with flaming headlines about another Enoch Arden, a Tennessee story of a man that was supposed to be killed at the battle of Perryville who had left a wife and infant son, and after the lapse of twenty-six years returned to find his son grown up and his wife married to another man and the mother of two daughters. He disclosed his identity to an old friend, leaves $20 for his son and strikes for Cincinnati. This is another snake-story, or a regular Mullattian, a fiction of fictions, without a ray of truth in it. A modern romance with not even a shadow for a foundation. The first ever heard of this Perryville soldier, this refugee from yellow fever, this dwarfish Enoch Arden, was in the recent correspondence from Harrodsburg. No such person as John Medill ever existed except in the fertile brain of a newspaper correspondent."

Ground Broken.

Ground was broken for the construction of the Richmond, Nicholasville, Irvine and Beattyville Railroad, near Nicholasville, last Thursday. A large crowd assembled to witness the ceremony. A special train carried large numbers of people from Louisville who were friendly to the "Three Forks" R. R. Mr. John H. Welch, of Nicholasville, made a speech, showing the great advantages of the new road. President Sine, of the new road, and President Young, of the Louisville Southern, each made short addresses. The Courier-Journal says: "Judge W. B. Smith, of Madison county, was next presented by Maj. Sine as the pioneer of the Three Forks road. He spoke of the many drawbacks, disappointments and hindrances the people had had in their honest endeavors to secure a railroad, after having spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to that end, and told of how the work would be begun, only to be dropped as soon as the money had been paid into the pockets of those who were thought to be all they claimed. 'And I thought to be all they claimed,' said Mr. President, 'said he to Maj. Sine, 'we all have a deep and tender regard for you and for your interesting family, but if you don't build this road for us, all joking aside, will hang you as high as Haman. Thank goodness, however, we are out of the woods, and our dream is at last to be realized. The time is close at hand when we can take a lemonade at Charleston in the morning, a drink of 'old Kentucky' in Louisville at noon, and sink into a comfortable bed all over the world to get up, without going all over the world to get up.'"

Water-Works Meeting.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Richmond Water-works Company was held at the office of Dr. G. W. Evans, Saturday evening, October 13th, 1888, with the following members present: C. D. Chennault, Frank H. Adair, Jerry Sullivan, Dr. M. C. Heath and a number of Water-works Contractors. The meeting was called to order with Col. C. D. Chennault in the Chair, Mr. Frank H. Adair, Secretary, was then requested to open and read such proposals as he had received for the construction of the Water-works in Richmond, Ky. The first proposal was from M. H. Phillips, of Chicago, for seventy six thousand one hundred and forty-four dollars and forty-four cents.

The second proposal was from Thomas V. Hall & Co., of Chattanooga, Tenn., for the sum of eighty-three thousand four hundred dollars.

Mr. Adair reported a number of drawings and specifications were returned from various Water-works Contractors with the statement that they were too busy with other contracts to be able to make a proposal on the Richmond Water-works.

As these two bids were the only ones received a motion was made to adjourn which was carried.

The following is a copy of form of proposal used:

Proposal for a system of Water-works for the Richmond Water-works Company in the city of Richmond, Ky. GENTLEMEN:—I have examined the Specifications and Plans of the Richmond Water-works furnished by you, as well as the attached form of Contract, to be entered into for the execution of the work, and hereby agree to furnish all labor and material necessary to complete, in perfect running order, said system of Water-works as set forth in these Specifications and Plans, for the sum of.....dollars. And.....further agree to enter into contract as per attached form, and give bond for the faithful performance of such contract with security approved by you, in the sum of Ninety Thousand Dollars ($90,000), within seven days after acceptance of this bid, or forfeit to the Richmond Water-works Company the sum of one hundred dollars ($100), a first cash check for which is hereby enclosed made payable to the order of J. Stone Walker, treasurer of Richmond Water-works Company of Richmond, Ky.

No proposals received after the 13th day of October, 1888, and such proposals as may be accepted shall only be accepted on condition that the special election to be held on October 20th, 1888, may result in favor of the city of Richmond issuing thirty thousand dollars in bonds to be taken in stock in the Richmond Water-works Company. Should such election result against such bonds then the accepted proposals to be released and all bids declared off.

The Richmond Water-works Company reserve the right to reject any or all bids. Bids will be opened in the presence of bidders on October 18th, 1888.

A Church Trouble.

At Flatwoods Church in Madison county a congregation of Calvinistic Baptists has been meeting in worship on the first Saturday in each month from time immemorial. It is one of the oldest and most respected congregations of that denomination extant. Its membership includes the honored family names of Harris, Miller, Thorpe, Embury, Covington, Chennault, Duncan, Hamilton, Park and others of Madison county. From that congregation went out, in the first quarter of the present century, some of the ablest leaders in the new reformation idea which was then having its birth in Kentucky. In that congregation the original ceremony of foot-washing and other ancient forms are still continued. Some of the largest associations of the Old Baptist church have been held at Flatwoods, attended by its ablest preachers from all over the South. There, too, have been some of the most heated debates in which the doctrines of that church have been pitted against the vigorous new doctrines which were predominant in Kentucky during the last half century. Scarcely among such debates was that between Elder Lampton of that denomination, of Missouri, and a noted divine of this county, of the Christian church some eight years ago in which Eld. Lampton made the humorous reference to the noted divine's statement that Lampton did not know who he had met; that the N. D. was a blue-grass boy, educated at college, to which Lampton responded that if the N. D. was a fair specimen of blue-grass boys, educated at college, he would advise the blue-grass farmers to turn their boys out to graze and render their mules to college.

Until some five years ago that old congregation met and held its monthly meetings in perfect harmony. About that time two preachers of that denomination, Elder Anderson and Elder Clark, moved to that neighborhood from the mountain counties and began preaching for the congregation at that church. Soon a discordant question made its appearance. Eld. Anderson and a few followers were willing to tolerate Sunday Schools and give them words of encouragement. Eld. Clark and other members held fast to the old doctrine that Sunday Schools and such like are an abomination in the sight of the Lord and should be discontinued on all occasions.

The feeling engendered by this difference since continued to grow in bitterness until it culminated a few weeks ago in the permanent of certain charges by the anti-Sunday School party, ten in number, against Elder Anderson, based, not specifically upon his interest in Sunday Schools, but upon matters growing out of it. Last Saturday was fixed to hear the charges and dispose of them. Early that morning the hosts began to gather and the meeting lasted six hours. The first action was the adoption of a rule by which the proceedings should be governed. This rule was offered by the Anderson party and was, that the persons preferring the charges should not be allowed to vote on any question that should arise. This virtually disposed of the charges, for about all the opposition had joined in the preface. Elder Anderson denied the charges specifically, but plead no counter claim nor set off against his accusers. A vote was taken and the charges were not sustained. Eld. Anderson then addressed the meeting, and said that if the charges were true he should be excluded from the church, but that if they were untrue the church should withdraw from those who preferred them. A vote was taken on that proposition and the church withdrew its fellowship from the ten members who preferred the charges. This action would not be sustained in the law courts, but we are not familiar with the code by which ecclesiastical tribunals are governed and cannot answer for the correctness of the judgement there. It is thought that this Sunday School question will pervade the entire church of that denomination and cause the schism, which began at Flatwoods last Saturday, to extend all over the land where that denomination has its followers.—Winchester Democrat.
